“An exceptionally clear account of the UNCITRAL Model Law itself, the reasons why the articles were drafted and how different jurisdictions have adopted the law... offers real insight into the thinking behind the drafting of the articles”

Legal Week

International Commercial Arbitration and Conciliation in UNCITRAL Model Law Jurisdictions gives you complete coverage of UNCITRAL's Model Law on International Commercial Arbitration and the Model Law on International Commercial Conciliation.

It covers all the information that you will need when contemplating arbitration in one of the “Model Law Countries” and enables you to ascertain what you can expect in each jurisdiction.

The reasons for and policies behind UNCITRAL's Model Laws are clearly and analytically examined. This work evaluates the different views on the provisions and their practical implications. With an examination of over sixty national adoptions of the Model Laws (including the world's top ADR locations and new countries that have adopted the Laws since the previous edition), this work gives you a complete picture of global practice.

DRAW ON EXPERTISE FROM THE FIELD

Dr Peter Binder acts both as arbitrator and counsel providing national and international legal advice. In his function as law reform consultant, Dr Binder frequently advises governments seeking to implement arbitration or ADR laws. He is a member of the UNCITRAL Working Group on Arbitration and Conciliation.

STRENGTHEN YOUR KNOWLEDGE

- Helps you understand the concepts behind the formation of the Model Laws through article-by-article analysis
- Reproduces the UNCITRAL Laws in full in the Appendices giving you easy and quick reference
- Contains information on the decisions taken in Model Law jurisdictions and shows how they have been successfully enacted
- Provides case law examples and charts detailing which articles have been adopted in each jurisdiction, helping you assess the law for the jurisdiction you are working in at a glance
- Provides information for those states who are considering adopting the Laws
- Covers the progress and gives details of the amendments to the Model Law allowing you to trace developments

“Dr Binder's treatise is an important contribution to the literature of international arbitration. It should serve for many years as the leading exposition of the development and interpretation of the Model Law”

Robert B Von Mehren, Arbitration
